There are 14 judges and 9.6 magistrates assigned to the District Court within the 1st JD. Magistrates are judicial, non-elected officers who are selected by and responsible to the District's Chief Judge. District Court Magistrates primarily handle juvenile matters in (including juvenile delinquency, dependency and neglect, adoptions and support) and preliminary domestic relations matters. One full time Magistrate presides over three problem-solving courts and one full-time Magistrate is dedicated to Probate and Mental Health matters. District Court Judges handle a mixed caseload of domestic relations, criminal, and civil cases. Currently one judge handles all juvenile matters for the District Court and one judge handles all Probate matters.

The District operates from two courthouses: one located in Golden, CO (Jefferson County) and the other in Blackhawk, CO (Gilpin County). In addition to the judges and magistrates, there are 148 support staff positions in the courts and an additional 135 personnel in the Probation department. The Probation Department served over 6800 probationers in FY24.

The First Judicial District is also home to several specialized courts. The primary focus of these specialized courts is to provide individualized services to participants with the goal of treating their chemical dependency and/or mental health issues in order to increase community safety, reduce recidivism and improve the lives of the individuals. These courts are a collaborative effort between many agencies, including the First Judicial District, Court Support Jeffco, the Jefferson County District Attorney's Office, the Office of the Public Defender, law enforcement, the Veterans Administration, Health and Human Services and community-based treatment providers.

One District Court Magistrate presides over three problem-solving courts, including Adult Recovery Court, Adult Mental Health Court, and Veterans Treatment Court. The 1st JD also has a family dependency court. FIT (Family Integrated Treatment) Court is a special track of dependency and neglect cases where parents voluntarily participate, acknowledge their substance abuse problem(s) and are willing to engage in treatment immediately. FIT Court is presided over by our District Court Juvenile Judge. Additionally, the 1st Judicial District is implemented a new Competency Court in January of 2024.
