Certiorari pursuant to C.A.R. 50 to the Colorado Court of Appeals, 2019CA1130
Docketed: July 13, 2020
At Issue: November 2, 2020

ISSUE(S):

Whether the District Court erred in finding that a dispute over the manner of the State Senate's 'reading' of a pending bill, pursuant to Colo. Const., art. V, Sec. 22, was justiciable, rather than finding it was a political question and thus refuse to exercise jurisdiction.

Whether the District Court correctly evaluated the requirements for injunctive relief to direct the manner of the State Senate's 'reading' of a pending bill.

Whether the District Court erred in granting declaratory relief, in light of non-textual parameters it established to direct bill readings in the State Senate for House Bill 19-1172 and future bills.

ISSUE(S):

[REFRAMED] Whether a trial court is required to make a specific finding considering and eliminating less drastic alternatives before ordering termination of the parent-child legal relationship, and if so, whether the trial court must do so using the best interests of the child standard or the adequacy standard.
