21st Judicial District announces District Court vacancy Commission sets date to select nominees

The Twenty-first Judicial District Nominating Commission will meet Oct. 7, 2022, at the Mesa County Justice Center (125 N. Spruce St., Grand Junction, CO 81501) to interview and select nominees for appointment by the governor to the office of district judge for the Twenty-first Judicial District (Mesa County). The vacancy will be created by the resignation of the Honorable Lance Timbreza. The vacancy will occur on Sept. 12, 2022.

To be eligible, the applicant must be a qualified elector of the Twenty-first Judicial District at the time of investiture and must have been admitted to the practice of law in Colorado for five years. The current annual salary for this position is $183,816. The initial term of office of a district judge is a provisional term of two years; thereafter, the incumbent district judge, if approved by the voters, has a term of six years.

Application forms are available from the office of the ex officio chair of the nominating commission, Justice William W. Hood III, 2 E. 14th Ave., Denver, CO 80203; and the office of the court executive, Will Sightler, (125 N. Spruce St., Grand Junction, CO 81501). Applications also are available on the court's home page at <http://www.courts.state.co.us/Careers/Judge.cfm>

The completed application must be e-mailed to the address listed in the instructions below no later than 4 p.m. on Sept. 29, 2022. Late applications will not be considered. Any person wishing to suggest a candidate to fill the vacancy may do so by letter to be submitted to any member of the nominating commission, with a copy to the ex officio chair, no later than Sept. 22, 2022.

The members of the nominating commission for the 21st Judicial District are: Jacob Aubert, Anne Murphy, J. Martelle Daniels, and Daniella Shively all of Grand Junction; Anthony Clayton of Palisade; Lori Buck of Mesa; and David Combs of Clifton.
