Mr. Clemans has been a licensed Colorado Attorney and Counselor at Law since 2012. He has been a mediator since 2019. Mr. Clemans began mediating cases after seeing the damage that can happen in divorce and custody cases that are fought out at the courthouse. Mediation can be an excellent way to resolve legal issues in a more satisfying and lasting way.

Mr. Clemans has practiced as an attorney in family law and juvenile law since 2014. He has handled divorce, custody, child support, spousal maintenance, property division, and other family law issues. Mr. Clemans has also handled dependency and neglect cases, adoption cases, relinquishment cases, paternity/parentage cases, and guardianship of a minor cases.

In addition to his Bachelor's and Law (J.D.) degrees, Mr. Clemans also has obtained a Master of Laws (LL.M.) degree. His Master of Laws degree is in Dispute Resolution and was earned at the top-ranked Pepperdine University Straus Institute for Dispute Resolution. His primary focus in that degree was on mediation. Mr. Clemans has received specific training in mediation, family law mediation, online mediation, conflict communications, cross-cultural dispute resolution, employment dispute mediation, and arbitration.
