

About Me

"I attempt to approach each case with dedication towards obtaining results that exceed client expectations. While I enjoy using my courtroom skills, I believe it important for parties to be in control of their own case and family. I am always very passionate in pursuing and protecting legal rights."

Paula A. Holt is an experienced attorney serving Denver Metro clients through Holt Resolution Group, LLC. Over the past 15 years, she has racked up incredible experience, having received mentorship working for Colorado's top Family Law attorneys James J. Keil, Jr., Richard Rotole, and Justin Ross. Before going into private practice Paula clerked for First Judicial District Court Judge Randall C. Arp. These qualifications help her better serve her clients with grace and professionalism, especially in high-conflict matters.

Paula now focuses her practice on Mediation, Arbitration, State Court Appeals and Magistrate Reviews. Paula also teaches as a Full Teaching Professor of Business Ethics and Legal Studies in the Daniels College of Business at the University of Denver.
